BURNS INDICTED FOR ARRESTING DYNAMITER AVIATOR FLIES AT THREE TODAY

"CLEAN-UP DAY" TO BE NEAR-HOLIDAY

President Morgan of Chamber of Commerce Gets Consent of Business Men.

MAYOR FERN VOLUNTEERS TO HEAD DISTRICT No. 2

Public Interest in Public Welfare Movement Increasing Rapidly—Individuals Feel Responsibility.

"Clean-up Day" -- Saturday, June 24--will be practically a business holiday in Honolulu. Most of the big business houses have decided to close for the entire day. During the coming week, the backers of the "clean-up" movement will make a whirlwind campaign to enlist the interest and aid of every household for the climax next Saturday.
****

President James F. Morgan of the Chamber of Commerce, a hearty believer in the "clean-up" movement, took up with the trustees of the chamber the idea of closing the business houses next Saturday, and the result of his efforts is seen in the following letter:

"Honolulu, Hawaii, June 17, 1911.
"Mr. Emil A. Berndt, President, Oahu Central Improvement Committee, Honolulu.
"Dear Sir: It gives me great pleasure to be able to report that, following the receipt of your letter of June 16, I called personally upon each of the trustees of the chamber as are in town and found them practically unanimous in favor of closing up the entire day Saturday, June 24. The banks, though heartily in sympathy with the movement, can not, as you know, close on account of its not being a legal holiday. The Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company will be compelled, on account of the movement of shipping, to keep open during the morning, but Mr. Kennedy is heartily in favor of the "clean-up" proposition and will willingly give such of his employees as wish

To Finance New Park

A syndicate of local capitalists is being formed to finance an outdoor amusement park, according to authentic information. The men behind the scheme, which is a big one, plan to establish a large park out toward Waikiki, perhaps in the McCully tract, and to fit it out for all kinds of outdoor sports.

A half-mile race track is to be built, grandstands and stables constructed and complete accommodations furnished for a driving park, and with the building of the park it is planned to establish a series of driving matches for gentlemen horsemen, such as have become extremely popular on the mainland of late years. The baseball diamond and grounds are to be as good as money can produce, according to the plans as outlined by one of the men who knows of the movement, and every sort of legitimate sport will be fostered.

Law Is After Homesteaders Now On Hawaii

Homesteading in the Kaiwili district near Hilo, Hawaii, is something of a forlorn hope according to the results of the trip of investigation made to the homesteads by Deputy Attorney General Smith. In addition, the bona fide settlers are declared to be comparatively few, apparently bearing out the suspicion of the Territorial authorities that the homesteaders at Kaiwili have not been particularly careful to adhere to the letter of the law in following out the regulations under which they acquired their holdings and for which they have applied for final patents. The inaccessibility of the Kaiwili homesteads to good roads is found to militate strongly against their success and the visit made by the Deputy Attorney General resulted in reaching the conclusion that the land was adapted for little else except cane.

The question of the homesteaders having deliberately violated the law in some instances will be dealt with in a report that will be prepared for submission to Governor Frear and Attorney General Lindsay. Smith was sent to the Kaiwili homesteads on a trip of investigation upon his return from the district of Kau where it was stated that some of the people identified with the Thompson Settlement Association had practically given their land over to the plantation as soon as they acquired it and had never turned over a spadeful of earth during the entire term of their occupancy. In accordance with the desire of Governor Frear that the rights of the homesteaders and the rights of the Government should receive some sort of judicial interpretation, providing a secure basis for future homesteading administration, a test case is planned on the Kau situation with the probability that a similar policy will now be adopted toward the homesteaders in the Kaiwili district.

BIG ESTATES GIVE PLEDGE OF SUPPORT TO FILLING OF CITY'S WASTE LANDS

The big estates that have holdings in the area planned for reclamation by filling along the Waikiki shoreline of the city, have pledged themselves to aid in the work that had its inception when the administration worked for the $250,000 legislative appropriation for the improvement of insanitary lands.

President Mott-Smith of the Board of Health states that the Ward Estate, the Bishop Estate and the Cummins Estate have practically pledged themselves to the idea, and that active work will be undertaken within the course of a few months. P. M. Pond has already started with the filling of a 60-acre area. Bids for the filling in of the district bounded by South and King streets and Ala Moana will soon be called for by the Board of Health, and to this the $250,000 appropriation will apply. The land makai of Ala Moana, however, which is the area incorporated within the General Macomb idea for a great parkway and barracks site, must be dealt with separately.

HILO HIGH SCHOOL ROW IN SOCIETY

HILO, June 16.—Hilo society is being rent asunder by the conflict going on here as the result of the aftermath of the Hilo High School scandal. The Board of Education in its published assignment has left out the names of Mrs. J. T. Lewis and Miss Sandry completely, while that of Miss Jennie Allen appears as among the teachers for the Hilo Union School, instead of in the High School. As the result the adherents of Richmond in this city are up in arms and are threatening to have the entire Board of Education removed and sundry other severe punishments.

A reception to one of the deposed teachers is planned and the greatest of care is being taken to separate the sheep from the goats. No men are invited but the ladies who are being asked are being first told of the purpose of the reception and then asked if they will care to be present, while from another source, a kanaka of Hilo, the edict has gone forth that only those who attend will have their names printed in the next Hilo Blue Book. A good deal of talk has started as the result.

The general sentiment of the community is that the action of the Board is one which might well have taken effect when the trouble first came up. There has been considerable unpleasantness in the High School for the past six weeks and the bringing in of new teachers throughout is looked upon as the best way to clear the atmosphere. At least four of the best families in this city, however, it is said leave for the Coast this summer to place their children in California schools having had too much experience with the local schools to care to keep up the experiment. The heads of the families remain here while their wives and children go to the Coast.

Sheriff Jarrett, who received a wireless from Sheriff Pua of Hawaii, left for Hilo yesterday afternoon in the Claudine, to arrest a man whose description is similar to that which is in the hands of Sheriff Jarrett and Chief of Detectives McDuffie.

It is expected by police here that the man is Henry Haole. Sheriff Jarrett will arrive with him by the Claudine, next Wednesday morning.

HE NAMED A VICE PRESIDENT

Once having the honor conferred upon him of offering the name of a candidate for vice-president on the National republican ticket, ex-Governor John Franklin Fort, for years a valued factor in the councils of the republican party, is contemplating a brief stay at Honolulu.

Ex-Governor Fort hails from New Jersey where he served a term as governor of that state. Since his admission to the bar in 1873.

Governor Fort has rapidly risen in the ranks of public men. He also has a long and honored judicial career to his credit. From 1908 until the spring of this year he was governor of the State of New Jersey.

Ex-Governor Fort was elected delegate at large to attend the National Republican convention in 1896 and at that time presented the name of Garrett A. Hobart, as candidate for vice-president.

GUSTS OF WIND DEFEAT MASSON

Aviator Masson was unable to drive his French monoplane from Leilehua this morning on the promised flight to Kapiolani Park. He started, but had to turn back. His program now is to leave Leilehua if possible at 3 o'clock this afternoon and fly to Kapiolani Park, arriving about 3:30 o'clock, after which he will make exhibition flights. Masson and Walker are both billed to fly at Kapiolani Park tomorrow from 10 to 4 o'clock. Walker will use the biplane which was wrecked at Hilo but has been repaired.

Crowd Watches In Vain For His Monoplane

Thirty thousand or more necks got a cramp this morning, sixty or seventy thousand eyes grew tired of looking at the sky, and ten or fifteen thousand persons said "I told you so" when Aviator Masson, the French master of the monoplane, failed to make his flight from Leilehua to Kapiolani Park before the noon hour.

Originally set for 8 o'clock, the Frenchman did not get his little monoplane into working order until some time after the appointed hour and then was doomed to disappointment in his attempt to set a new distance record for Hawaii. He made his start at last, sailed grandly off toward Honolulu for half a mile and then was struck and turned around by heavy gusts of wind that hit him as a squall would hit a sailboat. So strong was the wind that Masson could not drive the monoplane against it and finally made for the starting place to land. In landing he was nearly wrecked, the machine missing an officer's house by only a few feet, but finally he alighted safely.

Masson and his mechanics at once began further work on the machine and hoped to get it ready to start for Honolulu at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The hope was little of a certainty, however, as the wind is reported as still strong and unless it has gone down in the last hour, Masson will have trouble in making headway in the French machine.

Honolulu watched for Masson from 8 o'clock until noon today, and all along the line of flight from Schofield Barracks to Diamond Head people held a vigil that was unceasing. In the city the streets were full of people looking up, and many sought vantage points in office buildings or on the roof garden of the Young Hotel. Kapiolani Park was crowded, many autos being stationed there.

But they watched in vain. There were many false alarms given of the approach of the birdman, and a lot of people were fooled into looking earnestly upward by seeing joyful jokers pointing excitedly at the heavens and yelling "There he is!"

CLARENCE H. WALKER

If Masson is unable to fly this afternoon the machine will be shipped back to the city tonight or early tomorrow morning and he will have to forego the feat. Clarence H. Walker, the brilliant young Coast aviator, will be started tomorrow in the flights at Kapiolani Park, which are due to take place anywhere from 10 in the morning to 4 in the afternoon. Walker will use the biplane that was banged up at Hilo. It has been repaired and he will attempt some sensational performance tomorrow.

GIRL'S PAY IS NOW UP TO DWIGHT

Miss Grace Swayne, the girl from the Coast who took the chief clerkship of the road department when Road Supervisor Wilder let out John C. Anderson, can not get her pay for the time she has been in office unless Sam Dwight, member of the Board of Supervisors, says yes. That is the story said to be the real reason why Miss Swayne's salary claim has not been approved.

The girl clerk can not hold office under the city charter, and the road supervisor agrees with the city attorney on that, but he and several of the supervisors believe that Miss Swayne should be allowed pay for a half-month less seven days, the seven days being credited to Anderson. Nevertheless, Sam Dwight has so far declined to allow an employee to draw any pay who was not legally entitled to be inducted into office, and Miss Swayne may get nothing whatever for her work.

After the salary was held up by the last meeting of the board, several members of the board rather reluctantly decided that it is rather hard on the feminine official to be deprived of her salary by a technicality. Five of the supervisors, according to the best information obtainable, are willing to stretch a point and approve the claim, with the understanding that Miss Swayne is to leave the office at once, but Dwight wants to be shown that it is perfectly legal and proper.

HAWAII STRONG IN LABOR FIELD

That Hawaii is in a stronger position than before in recruiting European labor, is the opinion reached by members of the Board of Immigration as the result of an oral report made to the board yesterday afternoon by Special Agent A. J. Campbell, who returned yesterday from Europe on the Sierra.

Mr. Campbell's report is that Hawaii is in a position to get many more Spaniards and Europeans, and as soon as the board decides that the time is ripe for further recruiting, more immigrants will be secured. The board authorized the retention of Mr. Campbell, thanked him for his good work and has made public its feeling of approbation both for the good class of laborers he secured and the foundation laid for future recruiting.

Dr. Victor S. Clark, commissioner of immigration, discussing the policy of the board just now, said this morning: "We realize that more laborers are available, but there is an understanding that no more will be recruited until those here have had time to write back to Portugal and Spain and the news of how they have been received here and of the conditions locally is known where they come from. We must proceed carefully to avoid any diplomatic protest that might be made to Washington, and it is considered that the
